1. Anatomy is the study of ____, while physiology is the study of ____.

- A. function; structure
- B. structure; function
- C. cells; organs
- D. disease; health

2. Which lists the levels of organization from SMALLEST to LARGEST?

- A. cell → chemical → tissue → organ → organism → organ system
- B. chemical → cell → tissue → organ → organ system → organism
- C. organism → organ system → organ → tissue → cell → chemical
- D. cell → tissue → chemical → organ → organ system → organism

3. A group of SIMILAR cells working together on one job is a(n):

- A. organ
- B. organ system
- C. tissue
- D. organism

4. Why is the heart classified as an ORGAN?

- A. It is a single type of cell repeated many times
- B. It is made of two or more tissues working together
- C. It is the smallest unit of life
- D. It is a group of organs sharing a function

5. Homeostasis is best defined as:

- A. the body growing larger over time
- B. keeping the internal environment stable
- C. the study of body structure
- D. cells dividing to make new cells

6. In a negative feedback loop, the response always:

- A. amplifies the original change
- B. reverses the original change
- C. stops all body activity
- D. creates a new stimulus that grows

7. You get too hot and start to sweat, cooling back down. Put the loop in order:

- A. effector → receptor → stimulus → control center
- B. stimulus → receptor → control center → effector
- C. receptor → stimulus → effector → control center
- D. control center → effector → receptor → stimulus

8. Which is an example of NEGATIVE feedback?

- A. Shivering to warm up when body temperature drops
- B. Contractions getting stronger and stronger during childbirth
- C. A cut triggering more and more clotting until sealed
- D. A rumor spreading faster the more people hear it
